

Evaluation module: Information service networks

Evaluation of knowledge-intensive information service network is possible

Relevant evaluation points of view are

- community-level
- network-level
- organization/participant/customer-level

Evaluation practices should be tailored more closely according to the initial purpose of the service and the actual life cycle of the service

Information Service Network – Evaluation Levels

